Ask The Sales Coach-Practical Answers to the Questions Sales People Ask Most

B2B Sales Connections Inc. Contrary to the popular belief, sales people don't rely on "the gift of the gab" to be successful. Actually, the opposite is true. The best sales professionals spend far more time asking and listening than they do talking and selling. They ask questions of their customers; they ask questions of their colleagues, and they ask questions of their managers. If Oxford defines curiosity as the strong desire to know or learn something, then by that definition, sales people are curious by nature. In fact, that's how sales professionals learn to be professional in the first place. This is a collection of practical answers to questions sales people ask most. Written by Susan A. Enns, a professional sales coach with a proven track record of sales excellence over her 30 plus year career. Her accomplishments include consecutively being the top sales rep in Canada, managing the top sales branch, and achieving outstanding sales growth in a national channel sales organization. She has written several books about sales and sales management and has created numerous automated sales tools. Her work has been published in several locations numerous times and has sold on five separate continents. As such, over the years, Susan has been asked many questions by many sales people. After a while, she saw that sales people, regardless of their experience, the products they sell, the industries in which they operate, or the countries where they sell, all share similar curiosities. In other words, although the wording may be different when asked in an email or when asked in person, sales people all ask the same questions, the most common of which are answered in this ebook. As the old saying goes, the only stupid questions are the ones unasked. As a sales professional, you should never be afraid to "Ask the Sales Coach" because you will learn so much from the answers! - "Susan really knows the selling world. She's honest, articulate, bright, giving, highly competent, personable and a top professional. Welcome her. It's the right thing to do." - "Our company hired Susan as our sales coach. She has helped me make more appointments, close more deals and make more money. The 3 most important concepts in sales. I would recommend any sales force hire her to help boost business sales". - "Susan ...understands the sales process intimately and is able to create a management process around it that drives sales people to accomplish their goals." - "Susan knows her stuff. She brings many years of great sales experience and success to anyone who wished to improve their skills in sales. She is very personable, and is not afraid to tell it like it is. I would recommend anyone (and I have) to Susan, her website, her books if you want to become a better sales person." - "Thanks for the training... I made my quota this year in May!"

Architecting Secure Software Systems

CRC Press Traditionally, software engineers have defined security as a non-functional requirement. As such, all too often it is only considered as an afterthought, making software applications and services vulnerable to attacks. With the phenomenal growth in cybercrime, it has become imperative that security be an integral part of software engineering so that all software assets are protected and safe. Architecting Secure Software Systems defines how security should be incorporated into basic software engineering at the requirement analysis phase, continuing this sharp focus into security design, secured programming, security testing, and secured deployment. Outlines Protection Protocols for Numerous Applications Through the use of examples, this volume defines a myriad of security vulnerabilities and their resultant threats. It details how to do a security requirement analysis and outlines the security development lifecycle. The authors examine security architectures and threat countermeasures for UNIX, .NET, Java, mobile, and Web environments. Finally, they explore the security of telecommunications and other distributed services through Service Oriented Architecture (SOA). The book employs a versatile multi-platform approach that allows users to seamlessly integrate the material into their own programming paradigm regardless of their individual programming backgrounds. The text also provides real-world code snippets for experimentation. Define a Security Methodology from the Initial Phase of Development Almost all assets in our lives have a virtual presence and the convergence of computer information and telecommunications makes these assets accessible to everyone in the world. This volume enables developers, engineers, and architects to approach security in a holistic fashion at the beginning of the software development lifecycle. By securing these systems from the project's inception, the monetary and personal privacy catastrophes caused by weak systems can potentially be avoided.

Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1911 edition. Excerpt: ... the automobile power plant. A brief catechism. What is the source of power in modern motor cars? The majority of cars are driven by what are termed internal combustion engines. Gas, oil, and gasolene engines are internal combustion engines. Is a steam engine an internal combustion engine? No. In a steam engine the combustion takes place outside the boiler, and at atmospheric pressure. The heat has to pass through the plates of the firebox, or through the metal of the tubes to reach the water. A large quantity of heat goes up the chimney, which is lost. In an internal combustion engine the heat is developed in the cylinder. Is the action of an internal combustion engine similar to that of a steam engine? No. Quite different. In a steam engine, steam is let into the cylinder at each end alternately, and drives the piston backward and forward. What are meant by a piston and cylinder? A cylinder is any circular object with parallel sides; a pencil is a cylinder; so is a lawn-roller; so is the barrel of a locomotive boiler; but, in speaking of machinery, a cylinder is a hollow casting, bored for its length truly circular and parallel, and this part is termed the bore, and in it the piston works steam-tight or gas-tight. What is meant by combustion? Burning. The oxygen of the air combines with various substances and produces heat. There are various speeds of Vol. 6--20. combustion; for instance, a hay stack will sometimes heat, and after some weeks take fire--this is very slow combustion. Charcoal placed in an open dish burns very slowly. Gunpowder and the modern high explosives burn very rapidly. Is it possible to tell exactly how long the gas in a gasolene motor cylinder will take to burn? Probably in less than one-hundredth part of a...
