Although esports has technically been about for over 20 years, it is only in the last 5 that the industry has begun to make real waves. Esports is expected to reach a global revenue of over $700 million this year. By 2020, the global revenue is projected to exceed $1.5 billion, particularly as brand investment increases significantly. The demographics of the esports audience and participants is something that brands simply cannot ignore. Even traditional sports organisations have got into the space, recognising it's potential. The Philadelphia 76ers and large football clubs, such as Manchester City & PSG, for example, have invested into teams and players. Brands can also invest in events. Additionally, the variety of key revenue sources that could be tapped into is also huge attraction for investors. Revenue can primarily be generated through sponsorship, advertising, media rights, merchandise and tickets.
