The Basis for Business Decisions

"As our eyes are drawn upward to the skyline of great cities, it's important to remember that these impressive constructions are able to reach such heights only because their foundations are strong. In much the same way, being successful in the business world begins with fundamental courses like financial and managerial accounting. It is only when students have a firm grasp of concepts like the accounting cycle and managerial decision making that they have a base on which to stand, a strong foundation on which to grow. In this edition, as before, the Williams team has revised the text with a keen eye toward the principle of helping students establish the foundation they will need for future success in business. However, through new coverage of International Financial Reporting Standards and a revised globalization chapter, the Williams book also introduces students to larger themes and evolving concerns. This dual emphasis allows students to keep their eyes trained upward even as they become solidly grounded in accounting fundamentals"--

Construction Site Planning and Logistical Operations

Site-Focused Management for Builders

Purdue University Press Organising and administering a construction site so that the right resources get to the right place in a timely fashion demands strong leadership and a rigorous process. Good logistical operations are essential to profitability, and this book is the essential, muddy boots guide to efficient site management. Written by experienced educator-practitioners from the world-leading Building Construction Management programme at Purdue University, this volume is the ultimate guide to the knowledge, skills, and abilities that need to be mastered by project superintendents. Observations about leadership imperatives and techniques are included. Organisationally, the book follows site-related activities from bidding to project closeout. Beyond outlining broad project managerial practices, the authors drill into operational issues such as temporary soils and drainage structures, common equipment, and logistics. The content is primarily geared for the manager of a domestic or small commercial building construction project, but includes some reference to public and international work, where techniques, practices, and decision making can be substantially different. The book is structured into five sections and fifteen chapters. This facilitates ready adaptation either to industry training seminars or to university courses: Section I. The Project and Site Pre-Planning: The Construction Project and Site Environment (Randy Rapp); Due Diligence (Robert Cox); Site Organization and Layout (James O'Connor). Section II. The Site and Field Engineering Issues: Building Layout (Douglas Keith); Soil and Drainage Issues (Yi Jiang and Randy Rapp). Section III. Site Logistics: Site Logistical Procedures and Administration (Daphne Koch); Earthmoving (Douglas Keith); Material Handling Equipment (Bryan Hubbard). Section IV.
